Cavo Health Announces Industry-First Unified Platform for Risk Adjustment and Quality / HEDIS Abstraction

Toggle Functionality, Bundled Pricing Eliminate Silos, Reduce Costs, Improve Outcomes

Indianapolis, IN – June 3, 2026 - Cavo Health is announcing the healthcare industry's first unified platform integrating risk adjustment diagnostic coding and Quality / HEDIS abstraction into a single workflow, transforming how payers manage RAF and Stars performance.

Powered by its proprietary Precise Word Matching AI that delivers 98-99% recall of risk adjusting codes, 2-4x productivity and 15x ROI, the platform gives teams the ability to toggle in real-time within the same chart for risk adjustment coding and HEDIS abstraction while offering bundled pricing across both services.

Unlike traditional vendors that separate risk and quality into siloed solutions, Cavo delivers a single reviewer experience with shared clinical intelligence. Teams can seamlessly toggle between coding and abstraction without duplication or inefficiency, decreasing workflow friction and improving productivity while lowering costs.

“Health plans can no longer afford to manage risk and quality separately,” said George Witwer, CEO of Cavo Health. “Cavo delivers one platform, one chart, one workflow, enabling teams to move between risk and quality instantly, with aligned outputs and built-in cost efficiency.”

Key Advantages for Payers

- Dual-purpose chart review: Conduct diagnostic coding and quality / HEDIS abstraction from a single chart with one-click toggle, eliminating redundant reviews
- Bundled cost savings: Integrated pricing and streamlined workflows, reducing total spend and operational overhead
- Complete visibility: Capture patient refusals, identify gap closure barriers, and generate provider chase lists for targeted engagement
- Improved performance: Increase Star Ratings, optimize reimbursement, and enhance financial outcomes
- Audit-ready accuracy: Ensure fully traceable, compliant documentation that reduces audit risk

Better Data, Better Patient Outcomes

Cavo's unified approach improves patient care by enabling proactive gap identification, stronger care coordination, and more accurate quality reporting. Its HEDIS abstraction capabilities highlight key documentation, capture measure compliance and exemptions, and track clinical values like blood pressure and A1C to support earlier intervention.

Cavo creates a single source of truth across risk and quality - reducing discrepancies, improving audit defensibility, and driving better decisions.

"By aligning risk adjustment and quality in one platform, we're helping health plans close more gaps, improve outcomes, accurately code for risk, and operate more efficiently," Witwer added. "This is a smarter technology for value-based care contracts."

About Cavo Health

Cavo Health is a U.S. based healthcare technology company delivering higher HCC recall with the industry's most accurate, audit-ready coding platform for payers and providers. Powered by the only Precise Word Matching AI, Cavo enables autonomous point-of-care coding and CDI, risk adjustment coding, and quality abstraction with fully transparent, defensible results. Built by coders, its HITRUST-certified platform achieves 98%+ recall, drives 2-4x productivity, 15x+ ROI, and is backed by personalized, first-class service and customization based on client workflows.
